SOFTPACK RECLINING BATH

The Softpack bed is similar to a waterbed. During the treatment, your body sinks into and floats on the approximately 37°C warm water without actually encountering it. This creates a sensation of security.

The specially prepared care product is applied to your body, and you are wrapped in a light fleece cloth. Afterwards, you can float in the waterbed and enjoy the sensation of lightness. Upon request, it is also possible to, support this with a gentle rocking motion.

Your muscles will relax, your spine will be relieved, and the perfect positioning of your body promises true well-being.

The gentle water pressure and the slight warming of the body enhance the effect of the product, the combination of the wrap, the product and the pressure increases the skin's absorption capacity by 60%.

- Water temperature 37° C

Whether it's craniosacral therapy, osteopathic methods, or a massage – this offering provides you with the best of all three areas.

Based on conversations and tests, we will create a personalized treatment plan for you that addresses your needs and aligns with your preferences.
